Sergio de la Puente (Granada, 1975) his work efforts are mainly directed towards film music where he has already signed the soundtrack to numerous projects such as "Clandestine", "The Order of the Things".... and mainly the Soundtrack to "The Missing Lynx", an animation film produced by Antonio Banderas and directed by Manuel Sicilia and Raul Garcia. For this score he received the Goldspirit Awards Breakout composer of the year and a preselection to the Oscars for best score.

Currently, he composes numerous works for theater, TV, commercials, and games.

Also, the "Lady and the Reaper", a short film in 3D (stereoscopic) by the same team received a nomination to the best animated short film at the academy Awards (Oscar) 2009, and the score was awarded the best Soundtrack award at the ALCINE Festival of Alcala de Henares in 2009 and a nomination to Jerry Goldsmith Awards.

He now continues to combine his work as a film composer with his work as a concert pianist.

His last works are "Sin Fin" a goya nominated film directed by Alenda Brothers and the last Raul Garcia's movie, "Extraordinary Tales".

HIGHLIGHTS

SIN FIN
